

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Dr. Revillo Pendleton Oliver, Professor of the Classics at the University of Illinois for 32 years, is a scholar of international distinction who has written articles in four languages for the most prestigious academic publications in the United States and Europe.

During World War II, Dr. Oliver was Director of Research in a highly secret agency of the War Department, and was cited for outstanding service to his country.

One of the very few academicians who has been outspoken in his opposition to the progressive defacement of our civilization, Dr. Oliver has long insisted that the fate of his countrymen hangs on their willingness to subordinate their doctrinal differences to the tough but idealistic solidarity which is the prerequisite of a Majority resurgence.

SOME QUOTABLE QUOTES FROM AMERICA'S DECLINE:

On the 18th Amendment (Prohibition): "Very few Americans were sufficiently sane to perceive that they had repudiated the American conception of government and had replaced it with the legal principle of the 'dictatorship of the proletariat,' which was the theoretical justification of the Jews' revolution in Russia."

On Race: "We must further understand that all races naturally regard themselves as superior to all others. We think Congoids unintelligent, but they feel only contempt for a race so stupid or craven that it fawns on them, gives them votes, lavishly subsidizes them with its own earnings, and even oppresses its own people to curry their favor. We are a race as are the others. If we attribute to Ourselves a superiority, intellectual, moral, or other, in terms of our own standards, we are simply indulging in a tautology. The only objective criterion of superiority, among human races as among all other species, is biological: the strong survive, the weak perish. The superior race of mankind today is the one that will emerge victorious—whether by its technology or its fecundity—from the proximate struggle for life on an overcrowded planet."

FREEDOM OF SPEECH — FREEDOM OF THOUGHT FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

The editor/publisher of Liberty Bell does not necessarily agree with each and every article in this magazine, nor does he subscribe to all conclusions arrived at by various writers; however, he does endeavor to permit the exposure of ideas suppressed by the controlled news media of this country.

It is, therefore, in the best tradition of America and of free men everywhere that Liberty Bell strives to give free reign to ideas, for ultimately it is ideas which rule the world and determine both the content and structure of our Western culture.

We believe that we can and will change our society for the better. We declare our long-held view that no institution or government created by men, for men, is inviolable, incorruptible, and not subject to evolution, change, or replacement by the will of an informed people.

To this we dedicate our lives and our work. No effort will be spared and no idea will be allowed to go unexpressed if we think it will benefit the Thinking People, not only of America, but the entire world.

“America and the Holocaust Deceit and Indifference”

A Reply
by

Dr. Charles E. Weber

On the evening of 6 April 1994 the taxpayers of Oklahoma paid in part for the broadcasting of a shrewd, well calculated distortion of history that had as its obvious objective the instilling of a feeling of guilt in Americans pertaining to the tribulations, real or otherwise, of the Jews in Europe during the Second World War. America and the Holocaust was part of a series, The American Experience, and was broadcast by the transmitters of the Oklahoma Educational Television Authority. The broadcasting of this well calculated distortion of history makes a mockery of the word “educational.”

To someone who has watched for decades—in fact since my involvement in “Denazification” during 1945-1948—the development and exploitation of the “Holocaust” material for a number of Zionist objectives, this film (apparently produced during the past year) seems representative of a new emphasis in the “Holocaust” material, namely an attempt to insure the continuance of the huge contributions which American taxpayers are compelled by a corrupt congress to make to the ruthless Jewish state in Palestine at a time when thoughtful, well informed and moral people are horrified by the actions of the Jews against the Palestinians, whom they have expelled from their homeland and dispossessed, especially since the founding of the Jewish state in 1948, at which time President Truman gave immediate recognition to it.

America and the Holocaust, is apparently based for the most part on the book by David S. Wyman, The Abandonment of the Jews / America and the Holocaust 1941-1945 (New York: Pantheon, 1985, with an introduction by Elie Wiesel). Wyman, who is not Jewish, typifies the subservience to Zionist objectives so disgustingly common also in many members of Congress. Wyman was shown commenting several times during the film. Wyman insists on repeating the rather obvious lie that six million Jews died as a result of an extermination policy on the part of the German government during 1941 to 1945. America and the Holocaust lasted approximately 1 1/2 hours and was followed by an hour of publicity for the newly dedicated Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, "For the Living."

The basic thesis of America and the Holocaust is that Americans were hostile to Jews ("anti-Semitic") during the 1930s or even during the war and that this hostility manifested itself in delaying actions of the State Department and Roosevelt himself while it was known that millions, eventually six million, Jews were being slaughtered in Europe. The thesis of the film is set forth by detailed presentations of conditions present in the United States during the 1930s and even during the war. A poll taken in 1942 listed Jews in third place as a menace to the well-being of the United States and only after the Germans and the Japanese. The immigration law of 1924 restricted to a considerable extent the entry of Jews from eastern Europe and the provisions of this law were used as an excuse for restricting the number of Jews admitted to the United States. In 1939 a bill to make an exception to the law by admitting 20,000 Jewish children on a special basis died in Congress. One opponent of the bill argued that 20,000 charming children would grow into 20,000 ugly adults. The massive unemployment then extant in the United States was used as an argument against admitting Jews beyond the quota limits. Much is made of the voyage of the "St. Louis" from Hamburg carrying a load of Jewish would-be immigrants whose admittance to the United States was refused. The State Department is reproached with special vehemence for what is claimed to have been delaying tactics based on hostility toward Jews. In particular, Brechinridge Long, the Assistant Secretary of State, is sharply reproached for a secret memorandum which he sent to American consulates in 1940 that directed delaying tactics in issuing entry visas to Jews.

Even President Roosevelt is reproached for delaying tactics on the admission of Jewish refugees. Such a reproach seems strange indeed in view of the great power delegated to Jews by Roosevelt's appointments of Jews to powerful positions, such as Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury under Roosevelt. It was under Morgenthau's supervision, of course, that the genocidal plan for postwar Germany was established in 1944, a plan which no doubt intensified the German will to resist American forces invading Germany in 1944, thereby increasing the number of deaths of American soldiers. In the election of 1940 Roosevelt got 90% of the Jewish vote. On January 1944 Morgenthau met with Roosevelt and several days later Roosevelt reversed his position by setting up the War Refugee Board.

The American armed forces are also reproached for not having bombed the rail lines leading to Auschwitz, although it is claimed that this would have been militarily feasible since motor fuel production facilities in the Auschwitz region were in fact bombed.

The Polish government in exile tried to influence Roosevelt by claiming that a mass slaughter of Jews was going on in 1943, as reported to Roosevelt by the (non-Jewish) emissary, Jan Karski. Of course, the Poles were well aware how powerful Jews were in Roosevelt's government. Obviously, they had their own motivations for such claims, even though Poles are hardly noted for their love of Jews.

In view of all the delaying tactics on the part of the State Department and even Roosevelt himself, perhaps the best friend Jews ever had in the White House before Clinton, one must ask the important question as to whether or not military intelligence convinced Roosevelt and his administration that claims of ongoing extermination of Jews were false. After all, during the year 1944 many aerial photographs of the Auschwitz area were taken which must have disproved even then the claims of a massive genocidal action, just to mention one source of information on Auschwitz. We also seem to find a parallel in the attitudes of the Vatican, which also must have had extensive information on the situation through its priests in Germany, Poland and other lands.

The distorting and false nature of America and the Holocaust is manifested not only in what it presents but also in what it does not mention. There is no mention of the Evian Conference of 1938 and the hypocrisy which was demonstrated on the part of nations that were reproaching Germany for its policy of limiting the cultural and economic power of Jews. The Evian Conference was an almost total failure inasmuch as the representatives at the conference were those of the very nations which were quite hesitant to admit any significant numbers of Jewish refugees. On Saturday, 1 April 1933, the National Socialists imposed a one-day boycott of Jewish businesses in Germany. What America and the Holocaust does not mention is the fact that this was a very mild reaction to the protracted and harmful boycott of German goods imposed by Jewish organizations. In 1935 the German government finally got around to passing a law prohibiting the marriages of Germans to Jews. What is not mentioned is the fact that similar laws prohibiting marriages between persons of different races (Negroes and Caucasians) had long existed in many states of the United States, including Oklahoma. As in the case of a number of policies and objectives of National Socialist Germany, they were not out of line with regard to thinking of the times. In fact, some of them were developed under strong American influence, such as the four-volume series subsidized by Henry Ford during 1920-1922, The International Jew [The International Jew — The World's Foremost Problem, approx. 1,000 pages, pb., available from Liberty Bell Publications, $40.00 + $6.00 postage].

In spite of the cynical distortions and lies encountered in America and the Holocaust, there are some consolations in it. It is a further reminder of the immense political power of the Jews, even in Oklahoma, an area far removed from the great centers of Jewish population in New York and Los Angeles. Whatever suffering the Jews of Europe had to endure during the Second World War, that suffering was only a small fraction of the total suffering which other nations had to endure as a result of the war, a war for which Jews must bear a heavy part of the blame in view of their rôle in Communist governments in Russia and eastern Europe and in view of their corrupting influences on opportunistic politicians such as Churchill and Roosevelt. I witnessed much of this suffering in my younger years.

I would bet a nickel to a hole in a doughnut that the Okla-

By 1920, the Government of the Soviet Russia was made up as follows:

Council of Commissaries of the people	22 of which 17 were Jews
Commissariat of War	43 of which 33 were Jews
Foreign Affairs	16 of which 13 were Jews
Finance	30 of which 24 were Jews
Justice	21 of which 20 were Jews
Public Instruction	53 of which 42 were Jews
Social Assistance	6 of which 6 were Jews
Commissariat of Work	8 of which 7 were Jews
Commissaries of the Provinces	23 of which 21 were Jews
Journalists	41 of which 41 were Jews.

From Bolshevism is Jewish, by A.S. Leese

homa "Educational" Television Authority will never broadcast a lavish film on the unnecessary and genocidal bombing of cities like Dresden or that the series The American Experience will never include a lavish film on the genocidal starvation of Ukrainians in the 1930s. Is only Jewish suffering of importance to managers of the OETA?

Another partly redeeming feature of America and the Holocaust lies in the fact that it demonstrates, as I have long contended, that National Socialism was not an isolated phenomenon whose features were all confined to Germany. A number of its features were part of world-wide thinking on various problems, including current thought in the United States at that time. □

SOME REASONS FOR OPTIMISM

by
Allan Callahan

There are more than a few reasons to be pessimistic about the chances for Aryan survival, but there are some reasons for optimism, too.

For starters, consider the notion that the equality myth is too ingrained in white consciousness, now, to ever be removed. But the belief that man was created, suddenly, about 6,000 years ago, was very prevalent in the West, too, in the year 1859, when Darwin's Origin of Species was published. Clergymen were against him almost to a man, and the general population was largely hostile, too. Darwin himself was a quiet, scholarly type, with no stomach for slugging it out with his howling detractors in public. Fortunately for him though, a few of his fellow scholars did have the stomach for a fight, and started strongly defending his new theory. The most vocal and effective among them was the noted Thomas Henry Huxley, who, in fairly short order, started turning things around. Without him, things would have been quite different, and there is no telling how long it would have taken for Darwin to be vindicated.

Huxley is a good example of what one able individual can do. Our side has no nationally known racial leader of his ability right now, but one may become known one of these days, sooner than expected, and become a household word.

The most dyed-in-the-wool thinking can sometimes be turned around 180 degrees in a surprisingly short time. Robespierre was at first, as a young lawyer, opposed to killing even a chicken. Later, he became the most bloodthirsty of all the leaders of the French Revolution. When the Ayatollah Khomeini was living as an exile in Paris, some of his close friends and supporters said he was against killing a fly. After returning to Iran and gaining power, though, he ordered or condoned executions right and left. And shortly after the fall of the U.S.S.R., we saw Reds in high places, who had formerly be some of Communism's biggest supporters, become its biggest detractors.

Various reasons have been given for the fall of the U.S.S.R., but the real reason may have been that it fell after the elite of Russia no longer believed in it.

How many of the American elite, the "movers and shakers" of this country, really believe in this race-mixing experiment going on here? I mean really believe in it? Sure, they still earnestly defend it, still put up a brave front, because this is what is expected of them, and they do not yet want to lose face by admitting that the experiment is not panning out. But I suspect that many of them are simply "whistling past a graveyard." They would like to change things, but don't know how to go about it, or fear the repercussions, or are too wimpy to take the needed actions.

In Oct. of '93, Charles Murray, a fellow of the American Enterprise Institute, wrote an article that suggested a rather startling way of dealing with the ever increasing illegitimate birthrate in the U.S. While first deploring the fact that the rate is very high among blacks, he says a big threat now is appearing in a rising white illegitimate birthrate also (although it is still far lower than the black rate).

And what is his proposal? It is "ending all government support for single mothers." How will the single mother then get by? The same way, he says, that she did in the old days: "with help from her family, boyfriend, neighbors, church or philanthropies—anywhere other than the government."

Did Murray barely escape being hanged? No. The intelligentsia is abuzz over his article, and he seems to have gotten surprising support, and made a lot of people think.

Then we have the bill that Senator Harry Reid (D-NV) introduced last August, which is the most far-reaching legislation on immigration reform that we have seen in more than 25 years. It is called the Immigration Stabilization Act of 1993, S. 1351, and it deals with all aspects of immigration, including our refugee and asylum policies.

The legislation would put a cap of 300,000 a year on all types of immigration (still way too high, but far better than the more than 900,000 level we have now), and would put an end to all extended family-chain migration. Requirements that those who sponsor new immigrants should also be financially responsible for them, if need be, will be strengthened. (This is on the books now, but has rarely been enforced).

Right now all any pregnant illegal alien has to do is step across the border to have her child and it automatically becomes a U.S. citizen. This appalling nonsense would be stopped. It would also make those who make fraudulent claims for political asylum think twice. If caught, they could be quickly deported. Today, there is an incentive to file a false claim.

Illegals would find it harder to get work and could collect no public benefits except emergency medical care.

Criminal aliens could no longer stay in the U.S. after being released from prison. "Coyotes" and others who smuggle in illegals for profit would be severely dealt with. The Border Patrol would be beefed up to 9,900 agents from the current level of around 4,000.

Many other aspects of immigration would also be addressed. When Senator Reid introduced his bill, he pointed out that the totals of both legal and illegal immigrants each year were equal to the population of his home state 'vithout any clear idea of what it is we hope to achieve."

More and more people are getting worried about the immigration mess. Even Ted Kennedy is said to be concerned!

The race-mixers who run the U.S. today throw a bunch of diverse people together and then seem astounded when they don't get along. Would you throw cats and dogs together and expect them to get along?

But equalitarians insist that we get along, and believe that, with enough propaganda thrown at us, they can accomplish their aims. They think that the "American dream" will help unite us. And what is the "American dream?" Weak "happiness ideals," along with the desire to "make money." Not much to build a cohesive nation on, but some put great stock in it.

We can wonder if the real significance of the Bosnian war, which began in 1992, is understood by our government leaders. Here were Yugoslavians, all people of the same race, who had lived together for hundreds of years, and yet they couldn't hold together as a nation. The "ethnic cleansing" which took place there may well be repeated here, one day, maybe along with the breakup of America. If the Feds can truly comprehend this, it must be very unsettling for them.

To sum up, anyone who thinks about the problem of Aryan survival, and reflects on nothing but the things that are working against it, may develop a defeatist attitude, despair, and give up. This is un-called for. All of our kindred need to look around and see what we have to be optimistic about, and get some balance into their thinking. The end is not yet; not by a long shot! Sometimes history springs some great surprises! And they say the night always looks blackest just before the dawn. □

THE LATE GREAT BOOK: THE BIBLE AN ACCOUNT OF CHRISTIAN AND BIBLICAL ORIGINS.

Nicholas Carter feels that it is time for us to sit down and do what many Christians rarely do: Study the Holy Bible. In doing so, we may discover whether or not the Bible is indeed "Holy" and the "Word of God." In strict biblical order, the author methodically, and scathingly, examines the various claims made in the "Holy Book" and shows how many of them bear no relationship to reality whatsoever. ## GO SIX YOURSELF

by Robert Frenz

I am no researcher when it comes to theories since I prefer my own to those of others. I rarely read fiction since I can dream up tales far more wild than those of space-warp Spielberg. Therefore, it is down conjecture lane I must meander when I pursue a thought planted by Dr. Revilo P. Oliver in a recent issue of Liberty Bell. Why six (million)? Dr. Oliver asks when he discusses the number of imaginary dead the jews moan about. Instauration, an arid vocabulary exercising periodical, often comments "there's that number again", referring to the cardinal number 6, or the mathematician's positive integer 6.

There is absolutely no doubt that bizarre brains have attached 6 to many religious beliefs or cooked up religious beliefs from the number 6. From the book of Genesis on, the Bible is loaded with 6's covering everything from days, years, the number of sons, the count of oxen, numbers of pots, years a field may be used, etc. The book of II Samuel 21:20 states "And there was yet a great battle in Gath, where was a man of great stature, that had on every hand six fingers, and on every foot six toes, ..." (Imagine that—no middle finger! He wouldn't have been able to give the Clinton salute.) The jews are purified in a six pot ritual; St. John 2:6. It goes on and on, from 6 being used in hundreds, thousands, tens of thousands to six hundred thousand in Exodus 12:37 and Numbers 1:27. Interesting enough, I could find no reference to six million. What a shame! For such a massive work, as the Bible is, there is no reason that 6 should pop up more frequently than any of the other 9 digits, and it doesn't. Any novel, technical manual or piece of historical writing will usually show a rather random distribution of the single-digit counting numbers if the numbers are representative of the real world. A 6 will randomly appear in 1 selection out of 10 (10%) when the set is limited to unique single digits. If the set contains the counting numbers 1 to 99, the probability of picking a number which has a 6 in it, rises to 19 percent; from 1 to 999, about 27 percent. There are 2,811,354 numbers less than 6,000,000 which contain at least one 6. It is curious that this number 2,811,354 has 6 prime factors (prime numbers which divide it), that is, 2, 3, 7, 13, 19 and 271. A prime number is a number which has no divisors (factors) except itself and 1. (2, 3, 5, 7, 11 and 13 are examples of prime numbers).

A quick glance at the Bible reveals that the 6 played a lesser role than several of the other numbers. While six appears 195 times, the three shows up 814 times, the four 542, the five 302, the seven 427, the eight 79, the nine 49 and ten 351 times. The significance of a 3 becomes apparent from triads such as "the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost" and "man, woman and child". Trichotomy is part of our reasoning system: greater than, less than and equal to; negative numbers, positive numbers and zero; three primary colors; 3 points determine a plane; red, green and amber (caution) lights; the minimum number of sides a polygon may have is 3; etc.

Triangles have fascinated men for centuries, particularly triangles containing a right angle (90 degrees). The most primitive of right triangles, with whole number sides, is 3, 4, 5. Now the square of 3 added to the square of 4 equals the square of 5. The square of five is the number of inches in the Egyptian's Sacred Cubit. Also,  $3 + 4 + 5 = 12$ , the Zodiac number. From "eat, drink and be merry" to jokes with sets of three lines, there has always been an immense human involvement with the number 3. (Three strikes and you're out!) If a copy of an equiangular triangle is rotated 60 degrees and positioned on the original, we have the six-pointed star which obscenely decorates much of the world. God capitalized the 6 when he made man on the sixth day, Genesis 1:24-31. On the 5th day, all other life was created, including presumably, we goyim. It all started when God made the jew a 6 day wonder but why did God pick 6? If 6 is a magical number for God's Children then we should also remember that God created insects with 6 legs, a bee commune contains little 6-sided cells and there are 6 petals on the flower of a stinkweed.

Six is what the math buffs call a perfect number. When we add up its divisors (1, 2 and 3), the total is 6. This is also true of 28 (1, 2, 4, 7, 14) and 496 (1, 2, 4, 8, 16, 31, 62, 124, 248). There is an infinite count of perfect numbers, but this is only mathematical poo-plah. SIX is only a scribble and a noise which is passed between beings who have a need to count. We have to get this basic in order to avoid all of that magic number nonsense which paralyzes many brains. That ludicrous 6,000,000 gassing number has 7 digits (days in a week) where a 0 represents the number of days the gas was shut off. A 6 with six zeros. On the seventh day (digit 6) the gas was turned on. Chemical element number 6 is carbon, which results from burning something in an oven. One could romp with this all day but numbers are still scribbles and noises of which we attach some meaning, practical, magic or spook-like.

In the days before Joe Six-Pack (Wow! there's that number again!) could swill himself into oblivion, it was apparent to the counters that several critters had two legs, some four, others six and some with none and many with dozens. It was hard to make a case for any number when it came to leg counting. The number 5 appeared as a count of fingers and toes although some critters had one toe, others three and so forth. This also was not very inspiring but led to the use of a ten-count system since this was as far as a normal person could go with his fingers. In this regard, most people haven't kept pace with the times. They still can't count beyond their fingers. Five occurs as an interesting number during later history. There are only 5 regular polyhedrons. A polyhedron is a 3-dimensional solid where all of its faces are regular, and congruent, polygons. A regular polygon has sides of equal measure with equal measure included angles. A square is a four-sided regular polygon. Six (wa-hoo!) squares will form the sides of a hexahedron (a cube). The other four regular polyhedrons are the tetrahe-dron (4 faces), the octahedron (8 faces), the dodecahedron (12 faces) and the icosahedron (20 faces). The entire set of regular polyhedrons can be counted on the five fingers of one hand! Aren't you thrilled? Not much meat here.

The introduction of certain "heavenly" numbers followed the observation of the heavens. As the sun buzzed through one year (yere, gear, jahr, Janus the god of the speeding sun), the counters agreed that the moon slithered from dark to full to dark again about 12 times during this period. (Or was it from full to dark to full?) Since fractions weren't born yet, 12 was close enough. That's the basis for the Zodiac where each month (moon-th) had its own name, sign, god or other what-not. We have been stuck with this number ever since. The Babylonians had a number system based upon 5 times 12 or 60. The Egyptians copied much from the Babylonians and the Bible scribblers copied practically everyone and ended up with 12 disciples and attached a twelve to everything and anything including the number of Jacob's sons to bowls, tribes, fountains, bulls, pillars, reeds, oxen, platters, wives, brothers, cakes, wells and so on and so forth. Twelve appears 286 times in the Bible. In fact, the entire Bible has a Babylonian favor in regard to the number 12 which is the number of legs six Jews have, or three pigs. The solar year, when divided into twelve pieces, one for each month, and each piece divided into the approximate number of days in a month, yields the basis for 360 degrees in a circle and in some calendars, 360 days to a year. Our clock system has its roots there also with 60 minutes to an hour, a dozen hours in a day (and in a night), 60 seconds (minutes of the second order) in a minute and so on. (The metric worshippers have a hard time with this.)

It was, and still is, common to divide things up. A year is divided into 4 seasons, this is, half of a half. A month is divided into 4 weeks making a week equivalent to 7 days. The number 7, in this context, appears in everything that is known about the Babylonians and Egyptians. The book of Genesis is literally infected with the number 7 and the product of 6 and 7 (42) appears often throughout. When it comes to numbers, the Bible cannot claim any originality and the redundancy of combinations of 12 leads me again to wonder how much, if any, of it really represents other than fancy. We can all remember the puzzling ditty about the man who was met on the way to St. Ives. He had seven wives and so on to seven cats with seven kits. This sing-song use of numbers follows the patterns of the Bible and therefore, if the Bible contains any truth, we should realize that the numbers are only place fillers—figurative things. In this context, the 6,000,000 number is only numerical license to empress and express a point and has nothing to do with reality. This is why I will not waste my time arguing about such notions which vary from day to day and from brain to brain.

The Egyptians had a thing about dividing 12 by 7 (and also division by 3). They had no problem with half of six, thus reducing the problem to dividing 6 by 7. They expressed six-sevenths as  $1/2 + 1/4 + 1/14 + 1/28$ . Note the presence of the divisors of 28, a perfect number. It is known that in order to divide by 3, only a knowledge of division by 2 is necessary.

While we are still sniffing about the Pyramids, it is worth mentioning that the Egyptians were decent in mathematics and used the (rational) number 256/81 as the ratio of the circumference of a circle to its diameter. Their method of notation didn't allow such a fraction to be written but their calculations had this result. Many bone-headed experts (Ph.D.'s) have babbled about how Pi (remember your geometry?) showed up in the measurements of things Egyptian, particularly the pyramids. The Egyptians whittled out a wheel of 1 cubit in diameter and used to roll it along the ground as a way of measuring lengths. Certainly Pi would show up in any measurement. It was built in! No super genius here. The people who peddle this malarkey always seem to be believed. Many cultures used 3 as an approximation for Pi. There's that 3 again!

There is little to be gained by exhausting the basis for the fascination with the numbers 6 and 7. In fact, a case may also be made for every number from 2 on up. The Bible makes many references to 11, 13, 17 and on but our query was directed towards the number 6. As the numbers were explored, I could find no logical basis for stating that any particular number has some sort of significance, much less some magical aura. This is as it should be, for numbers are only abstract products of the mind and have little to do with reality although they serve as a powerful mental tool for ordering and manipulating reality. From the 3 men on a match bit to the 9 lives of a cat; from the 6-pointed star to the unlucky 13, it is all superstition. Only God knows why Satanists howl over the number 5 and the jews love their 6's or why some people avoid black cats carrying a ladder with 13 steps.

When one rolls a pair of dice, a showing pair of 6's is called "box-cars". There are 6 million, 6-starred survivors of a 6-year war out there who can vividly remember riding in box-cars during their imaginary game of craps.

Now I am leaving from the same door from which I entered. I have discovered little in regard to that magic 6, so I am offering my own explanation. If one searches the infinite set of natural numbers (the counting numbers) and tries to discover a subset with the property that the sum of its elements is equal to their product, he will find that there are EXACTLY 3 numbers in the one and only subset. ONLY THREE NUMBERS where it doesn't make any difference if you add them or multiple them! They are: 1, 2, and 3 because  $1 + 2 + 3 = 1 \times 2 \times 3 = 6$ . There you finally have it, folks. No matter how you slice it, SIX is GOD where addition is the same as multiplication! This extraordinary discovery must be worth at least 6,000,000 bagels, with cream cheese already. I'll bet the jews don't know this. Enjoy. Therefore, let me speculate that the large number of fumigated souls was arrived at by multiplication rather than by addition, since in the world of the 6, it makes little difference anyway.

I'll leave you with yet another piece of poo-plah. All prime numbers are either 1 less than, or 1 greater than, some multiple of 6, except for 2 and 3 of course. Be a researcher. Check it out. Be a revisionist. Demonstrate that it ain't so.

LOUIS AND SHEILA

by J.B. Campbell

The greatest award the U.S. government can bestow on an American is not the Congressional Medal of Honor. The greatest honor an American can receive is to be charged with sedition by the United States government.

Louis fell in love with Sheila immediately. He'd been visiting her father, talking politics, and couldn't believe his friend could have such a beautiful, sweet and unaffected daughter as Sheila, who lived at home with her parents and brothers in Santa Fe, Texas. Sheila Toohey taught Sunday school. She'd had to wear a back brace from a recent car accident and was in constant pain, although she would never burden anyone by mentioning it. In the following weeks Sheila noticed that Louis was coming over for dinner quite frequently and that he was talking with her more than with her father. He actually likes me, she realized. Within a few months Louis asked Sheila to marry him. They were married in April, 1987.

Sheila knew from her father that Louis Beam was a well-known Texas patriot who'd fought Communists and other enemies since his return from Vietnam in 1968. Louis had volunteered for two tours in that slaughterhouse, serving as a door gunner on a Huey helicopter. A typical young American, he'd just thought it the right thing to do. Louis had earned the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal for Valor, awards which would be eclipsed by the honors he would receive twenty years later.

Shortly after their wedding Louis told Sheila that it might be best if they honeymooned in Mexico. In fact, he said, they should consider living there for a while.

"Why?" asked Sheila, who wondered if she could live so far away from her family.

"It's possible that I'll be indicted by the federal government." Sheila confesses now that she thought he meant he might be subpoenaed and that Louis just didn't want to help the federales in any case they had against somebody.

So they made their way south, staying with Louis' friends in a couple of different places. They had little money and it was difficult for Sheila to adjust to this uprooted, somewhat insecure new style of living in a foreign country. Louis had been married before and his pretty, seven-year-old daughter, Sarah, was with them. The three made their way to Guadalajara and found a pleasant apartment in the American colony of Chapala. They settled down to a fairly normal life.

On 21 April, seventeen days after their wedding, a federal warrant was issued for Louis which alleged that he had conspired with Pastors Bob Miles and Richard Butler and six members of The Order "to overthrow, put down and destroy by force the government of the United States and form a new Aryan nation." The Order men were already doing hard time for their activities which had culminated in the FBI's murder by arson of Robert Mathews on Whidbey Island, Washington. Oddly, six other names were thrown into the indictment with regard to charges unrelated to sedition.

In July, Louis was placed on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list. Unbeknownst to him, the FBI was monitoring his friends' telephone calls and examining their mail. A number of Americans were supporting Louis through his friends, who would forward the money to him under his nom d'guerre.

On the fifth of November, Sheila looked out her kitchen window and saw a Mexican standing under a tree across the road, looking in her direction. Something about his appearance was purposeful and unsettling. She called Louis to come see but the Mexican disappeared before he could get a look. In the months of their stay at Chapala there had occurred a number of rapes and murders of the Americans. The typical MO was to clobber the husband and rape the wife. Everyone was a little jumpy.

The next day Louis, Sheila and Sarah attended a meeting of Chapala Americans where the crime situation was discussed. On the way home they went shopping for dinner. They returned after dark and Louis, as usual, went inside the apartment first to check it out. Then he came back to the car to help little Sarah out and grab the groceries while Sheila went inside and upstairs. She glanced out the kitchen window down at the car and was appalled to see Louis bent over the hood with a gun to his head. She immediately went to the dresser and got Louis' pistol...

As Louis had backed away from the car he'd been jumped by an FBI agent and three Mexican federales. "Move or say a word and I'll blow your f—— brains out!" said Steve Walker, the FBI agent, as he slammed Louis' face down on the car's hood. He could not see what happened next.

Sheila could only think that the men, who were dressed very casually, were the gangsters who'd been terrorizing the colony lately. She intended not to be raped or to let them hurt her husband and Sarah. As she got to the stairs and started down, another Mexican, Ignacio Licea, also dressed in plain clothes, was at the bottom, holding a shotgun. "Come down here!" Licea ordered. Sheila looked in his eyes and was more terrified than she'd ever been.

"Are you going to hurt my husband?"

"Come down here now!"

"I'm afraid!" she responded. With that the federale raised his riot gun to fire. Sheila brought the 9mm from behind her and fired three times. The first shot hit the Mexican in the shoulder and spun him around. Her next two shots got him in the kidney and liver. He fell and was caught by another FBI agent who shot at her from behind him. Licea was dragged outside. Sheila ran back into the upstairs bedroom. Louis' pistol had a big magazine and she ran from window to window, shooting at what she figured was a gang of criminals. Her leg was on fire where the FBI agent's shot had hit her.

The FBI had brought a little back-up with them. A company of soldados from the Mexican army had surrounded the building and now proceeded to fire hundreds of rounds into the apartment, which was fortunately made of good concrete. The volume of lead entering the rooms in addition to the brilliant light which flooded the scene began to persuade Sheila that something else was going on here.

"Tell her who you are!" shouted Louis over the roar of gunfire. "She thinks you're robbers!" The FBI agent pulled him down to the ground and jammed his pistol in Louis' ear.

"I told you to shut your mouth!" screamed Walker, "or I'd blow your f—— brains out!" Little Sarah was still in the front seat of the car, potentially in the line of fire. "Let me get my daughter to cover!" insisted Louis. Walker, shaking in fear, ignored him.

"I give up!" called Sheila, during a momentary lull in the firing. Gradually the shooting tapered off and when it finally stopped they rushed her. They poured up the stairs and captured her, cuffing her hands behind her back. Then the beating started. One of the federales hit her in the face, breaking the bones around her eyes. She was slammed around the room, into the walls, bent backwards over a highback chair until she thought her already damaged back would break. They hit her in the head, in the stomach and on her gunshot leg. The FBI agents watched them brutalize her.

She was taken downstairs but before she could step outside a Mexican slammed her face-first into a concrete pillar, breaking her nose. When she was finally brought outside, Louis was aghast at her appearance and beside himself with rage as he and Sarah were put in a car with Sheila and taken to jail.

In December, 1986 Pastor Richard G. Butler, head of the Aryan Nations in Idaho, circulated a Sedition Alert which advised patriots:

...Even as early as April of 1986, top leaders of the right wing in America have been sent alarming communiques from secret sources in top governmental positions outlining a concerted, orchestrated program of intentional criminal harassment of the White, racialist movements. This plot, sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League and carried out by their ZOG stooges in the U.S. State and Justice Departments... in what has come to be known as Operation Clean Sweep, is well under way..

The round-up of White patriots began six months later.

The reader may be as completely unaware as Sheila was of Louis' activist background. She didn't know, for example, that he'd been indicted six times but never convicted for such acts as fighting Communists in Texas in the late '60s and early '70s, blowing up Communist radio stations in the area, attempting to strangle the vice premier of Communist China, Deng T'sao-peng, during a state visit to Houston in 1979, machine gunning Communist Party headquarters in Houston, and various actions against our Jewish government.

In the aftermath of the Vietnam bug-out the government transported many thousands of Vietnamese peasants to this country to accelerate the destruction of our former way of life. Thousands of them were placed in California, Texas and other states and provided with brand new fishing boats. The peasants quickly began to exploit our dwindling shrimp population along the Gulf coast. They ignored limits and protected area laws. The Texas shrimpers, by early 1979, had had enough. They appealed to the State Parks & Wildlife agency, which ignored them. They appealed to the federal government, which naturally ignored them, since the yellow infestation was government policy. They appealed to the governor of Texas, who ignored them. Exasperated, the shrimpers turned to Louis Beam, leader of the Texas Ku Klux Klan. Louis moved swiftly and within days the Viet poachers were quaking in fear at the sight of shrimp boats loaded with grim-faced, armed Klansmen in fatigues, patrolling the bayous and waterways, checking the aliens for violations. Fishermen had been killed and boats burned but, until Louis laid the law down, the state and federal governments had deliberately let the crisis grow. The governor, afraid of armed conflict between Texans and Vietnamese, had no choice but to take action. He flew a representative down to Galveston to meet with the shrimpers. "You didn't have to call on the Klan!" he cried. "Beam will only cause trouble!" For the first time, however, the state agreed to enforce fishing laws and regulations the Vietnamese had been allowed to flaunt.

As a result of the national publicity over the Texas Gulf coast dispute, a number of films were produced which dealt with this matter. "Alamo Bay" was a feature film—a product of Jews who naturally feared the prospect of White men standing up for themselves. They vilified Louis. "Bad Moon Rising" was also a propaganda effort to make us hate White men. The film department at Rice University made contact with Louis and asked if they could follow him around for a year and document his activities. Louis agreed. The result, "Portrait of a Klansman," was quite unexpected. The filmmakers, who were not at all sympathetic with our struggle, felt constrained to place a statement at the opening which explained that after a year of observing Louis and his men, they were sympathetic with his cause! This documentary was shown a number of times on the Public Broadcasting System and won several awards. The chief filmmaker was hired by the BBC because of the film.

Therefore, as a leader of the White resistance who had mastered the media, who had beaten the Jews at their own game, Louis Beam had to be destroyed. The ADL/FBI hate Louis more for his marvelous gift for oratory than for his penchant for action. He is undoubtedly the most effective speaker for our struggle than any since the 1940s. This writer, for example, who is not considered a crybaby, along with everyone else in the audience, was left in tears by his speech on behalf of the patriots who are rotting in ZOG dungeons today. It became clear to me, then, why and just how badly the Jews want Louis 'discredited and destroyed. For example, when the body of Dr. Josef Mengele was found in Argentina and his fundraising spectre lost to the Jews, the next letter sent out to the suckers by the Simon Wiesenthal Center put Louis at the top of their list of bogeymen.

Sheila and Sarah were immediately separated from Louis in the Guadalajara jail. Louis was being hurriedly readied for extradition to Ft. Smith, Arkansas. The FBI agents were trying to get him out of Mexico before the federales got wise to their dirty trick: They'd staged an elaborate hoax on the Mexicans by claiming that Louis was a drug dealer. They'd even brought along two DEA agents on the arrest to make it realistic. The Mexicans believed the lie—why wouldn't they? They believed it so completely that they nearly killed Sheila because of it.

Sheila and little Sarah were held for hours without food or water. Sheila's hands were still cuffed behind her. Steve Walker of the FBI appeared in the office. He looked at her and spoke to a federale, rubbing his wrists. The Mexican nodded and went to Sheila and clamped the handcuffs down more tightly around her wrists. She gasped in pain. When she finally asked to go to the bathroom they were not removed and a Mexican stood and watched as little Sarah assisted her. The handcuffs would not be removed or loosened for another five days.

The U.S. consulate was told to come get Sarah and then Sheila's terror began. She was forced to swallow a dozen pills and later ordered to sign a confession, in Spanish, that Louis was a drug dealer. The federale chief, Luis Calderón, took personal charge of her torture. When she denied the drug charge he held a gun to her head and said he would kill her now if she didn't sign. She wouldn't do it. They beat her sadistically. They sent her to a cell, where, in isolation, she lost track of time. The Mexicans allowed her no sleep and for five days she was threatened and beaten and ordered to sign the confession. She always refused. Calderón told her, in English, "You have shot a federale. You will never get out of prison. If he survives he will come into your cell and mangle you. If you survive that I will sell you to people who want what is left of your White body—do you understand, gringa?" The beatings left her abdomen swollen and bleeding, so much so that another Mexican asked if she were pregnant? The chief told her, "If you desire a doctor for your injuries, I will call my doctor. You won't like what he will do to you." Sheila's wrists were so swollen that her hands were turning colors and without feeling. She sustained permanent nerve damage to them.

In her filthy cell she was hand-fed by a Mexican boy with his dirty fingers. A Mexican policeman who had begun to suspect the FBI of lying, warned her, "Please, señora, do not scream when they hurt you," he whispered. "No matter what they do, do not cry or scream... They derive pleasure from women screaming." She was chained to her bed with its filthy, infested mattress. When she tried to sleep they would kick the bed and jar her awake. Federales would leer at her and caress their weapons. She was refused water for extended periods and got no medication for her back or abdominal injuries and suffered from vaginal bleeding for several days, so vicious were their beatings.

During one of her interrogations it became apparent to Sheila that the questions she was being asked by Calderón were being passed to him by someone in the hallway out of his office. A paper would be handed to him. He would look at it and ask, "In addition to being a drug dealer your husband is a White supremacist. Who has been sending him money from the United States?" Two police thugs stood over her, waiting for the wrong answer. Sheila shook her head.

"My husband is not a drug dealer." Wham! The thugs beat her in the stomach and head. She recoiled from the hits and managed to see Steve Walker of the FBI peeking around the hall corner at her.

On the fourth day she was interviewed by an attorney for the government. Documents in Spanish were put in front of her. "If you agree to sign these papers your hands will be freed..." Sheila nodded feebly, desperately wanting the excruciating pain to stop. A pen was put in her swollen right hand, which was momentarily uncuffed from the other. She focused on the papers.

"But these are in Spanish!"

"Sign them!" ordered the attorney.

"What do they say?" asked Sheila. A federale grabbed her arm and pounded it against the table. Weak from pain, she started to sign. When she wasn't signing fast enough the cop beat her wrist against the table again and again. Her hands were immediately re-cuffed behind her, even more tightly.

* * *

Louis had been taken from the jail in leg irons and manacles to the Guadalajara airport. Luis Calderón, the police chief, accompanied him along with three others. They put a black bag over his head and tied it around his throat with a rope. He'd at first assumed they were taking him out to be shot but soon they arrived at the airport and he was taken aboard a small jet. As they flew, Louis sat with the black bag on, trying to persuade the Mexicans of his true status.

"Well, the gringos have fooled you again. They've taken advantage of your legal system and are abusing your trust in them..."

"Shut up, drug dealer!" growled a Mexican.

"See? That's what I mean. They come down here and pretend I'm a drug dealer—but I'm political. They want me for sedition. You know what 'sedition' means? It means that I hate the U.S. government! I hate the stinking FBI and they hate me. You get it?"

"Shut up, drug dealer!"

Louis kept it up until the plane landed at Nuevo Laredo. The Mexicans led him out and down the stairs to the ground. The black hood was pulled off and he was astonished to see some forty men, Mexican and American, gaping at him. Someone shouted, "Let's get pictures!" The U.S. and Mex feds jostled for position as group photos were snapped. Then the hood went back on and Louis was forced back on the plane. As he tried to get as comfortable as he could with his hands cuffed behind him (they had been on now without release for four days), an American voice said, "We'll take the hood off as soon as we cross the border, Louis..." Four minutes later the hood was removed. Across from him sat Norm Stevenson, the Little Rock FBI agent in charge of the manhunt. "There, how's that?" Louis looked at him and another agent, the head of fugitive warrants from Tampa. This one glared at him. He had reason to be angry: Louis had eluded the Fanatical Bunch of Idiots and had held up the Ft. Smith show trial for many months. They couldn't start without him. They should have, though, as it turned out.

"So, Louis," said Stevenson, "Things are pretty bad for you..." Louis looked out the window. "You can make it easier on yourself if you cooperate." They flew on across Texas. Stevenson waited a while and then said, "Your pretty little wife's in bad shape back there. Maybe there's a way we can make it easier on her..." Louis looked at him.

"I'm interested."

Stevenson produced two files and referred to them. "Tell us about Bob Miles and Richard Butler." Louis looked at the files and then at the FBI agent.

"You've got the wrong man. I won't betray my friends."

Stevenson called ahead and notified the press that they were bringing in one of the Ten Most Wanted to the Fort Smith airport. Upon landing a gaggle of newsmen and television reporters surrounded Louis fired questions as he was led in leg irons and cuffs to the waiting federal convoy. "Did you really conspire to overthrow the government of the United States?" Louis paused to look at the cameras and smiled. "What else is a country boy going to do on a Saturday night when the only drug store in town is closed?" The federals probably began to have a foreboding that this would not be the show trial they had planned.

* * *

Louis was held for trial at the county jail at Ft. Smith. He had not eaten since the arrest several days earlier. His fast continued through eleven days and he was taken before a federal magistrate who asked him if he intended to eat?

"I'll eat when I am recognized as a political prisoner."

The judge ordered him transferred to the notorious federal prison "hospital" at Springfield, Missouri. Four U.S. marshals drove him there. He was taken to an isolated room and immediately informed that there would be no more hunger strike. "You ain't gonna die on us, boy. You see this steel platform? We're gonna strap you face down on this platform and we're gonna run this hose up your nose and we're gonna feed you anything we damn please and you ain't gonna die on us."

His attorney, Kirk Lyons, who had never handled a criminal case before, appealed to Amnesty International for relief for Louis and Sheila. Louis, after all, was a political prisoner who was being held for racial and political reasons. (When AI finally responded they refused to intervene on the grounds that Louis' indictment alleged violence! Sheila's case was rejected because she had actually shot a policeman.)

* * *

On her fifth day in hell Sheila was transferred to a women's prison in Puerto Agrande. Here the FBI handcuffs were finally removed. As the circulation returned to her nerve-damaged hands the pain was unbearable. Her wristwatch band was embedded in her engorged flesh. She was held here for an additional five days. On each of the first three days she was again forced to swallow a handful of pills. A half hour later the police would question her about guns and drugs. Despite her drugged condition Sheila maintained Louis' and her innocence of these wicked charges.

Then the miracle happened. Officials suddenly appeared and informed Sheila that the charges of intentionally wounding a federal police officer and possession of a weapon of a calibre reserved for the army had been dropped. She would be deported!

What exactly had happened? No one, let alone an American, has ever shot a federale, and been set free. If any civilian shoots anyone down there he goes to hell for a long time. The FBI speculated that a large quantity of money accumulated by The Order made its way to the judge in her case. Louis, whom the FBI likes to call the only member of The Order who isn't in prison, scoffs at this. "Who has this money?" he asks. "All of the members of The Order are in prison! How would anyone get it to the judge? It was a miracle—nothing less."

What happened was that the Mexicans finally realized they'd been deceived by the FBI. They finally read about Louis' coming trial for sedition—not drugs. When they read this they demonstrated their contempt for the liars by turning Sheila loose. In fact, right after this, the FBI asked for the extradition of a Puerto Rican terrorist who had escaped from federal prison and fled to Mexico. Further to show their contempt for the gringo liars, they put him on a plane for Cuba.

There was a great deal of drama and suspense surrounding her release, since most of the Mexicans could not fathom how a gringa could be turned loose after trying to kill a cop, and, figuring the order to release her must be a giant foul-up, they stalled every step of the way. They also probably figured someone had been paid off and they wanted to get paid, too. Sheila's father and brother and Dave Hollaway, an associate of Kirk Lyons, had flown down to expedite the release. After some seventeen hours of red tape and delays, poor Sheila was finally put on a plane for Los Angeles. Then, despite her severe internal injuries and equally severe psychological damage, Sheila postponed her required emergency surgery and flew to Ft. Smith to reassure her husband.

There is an interview with Sheila videotaped during the sedition trial. This beautiful young woman's face was still unrecognizable two months after her release from Mexican torture. Her slender figure was obscenely swollen about her abdomen. She now had a pathological fear of men. She was frantic that Louis would learn what had happened to her while he was still in custody and that he would naturally react and quite likely be hurt or killed by the prison guards. She was terrified that the federales would kill her, as they promised when she was released. If she told anything about what they did to her, they threatened, a man would come to her home and kill her.

This, then, is the introduction to the Great Ft. Smith Seditious Trial of 1988.

The U.S. government's case against Louis and his sedition co-defendants hinged on the testimony and credibility of James Ellison, formerly a self-proclaimed enemy of the U.S. government. He also termed himself King of the Ozarks and had several wives. Ellison's claim was that, at a meeting in Hayden Lake, Idaho, he had passed a paper around a group of men for their signatures. Some unthinkingly had signed it. Louis had merely ignored the paper when it came his way. He was unimpressed with Ellison since watching his performance at the Aryan Nations podium earlier in the day during which he'd produced a .45 automatic and waved it around as he spoke. Who was this pretentious individual, he wondered? Once the paper made its way back to Ellison he said, "There.

You all have pledged to overthrow by force the U.S. government!" He folded the paper and put it in his pocket.

Louis didn't want a lawyer. He didn't need one except to guide him through the traps of procedure. When it came to the talking part and the asking of questions, well, he could handle that. Richard Butler, one of the kindest and gentlest men I've ever met, had undergone open heart surgery, due to stress, shortly after his arrest. He hired Idaho attorney Everett Hofmeister. Bob Miles felt that since they were in a Jewish-ordered tribunal he needed a Jewish lawyer and he hired Detroit's Deday LaRene, who had defended various organized crime figures.

The judge was another matter. They say that every rule has its exception and, in our rotten federal court system, Morris Arnold was definitely that exception. He was totally opposed to the whole business of trying these men for sedition. He saw through the government's smelly ploy of placing convicted men on trial with Louis, Pastors Butler and Miles. He was doubtless aware that the government had lost the two previous sedition cases in 1798 and 1944 and that the former had destroyed the Federalist Party. He behaved very courteously toward the defendants at all times and this probably helped the jurors see them as normal human beings.

When the transcript of this trial is one day made public it will reveal it as one of the most bizarre in our history. One of the 14 defendants, Robert Neil Smalley, complained that he was completely ignorant of the matter at hand and that he was an employee of the CIA who had to be pulled out of Pakistan by that agency where he had been assisting the Afghan rebels! He was immediately released by Judge Arnold but stayed on as a spectator so as to see what it was all about.

Bill and Ivan Wade, father and son, complained that they couldn't be part of any White supremacy case since they were full-blooded Choctaw Indians. Judge Arnold kept them around as a formality since the senior Wade had owned the property on which Gordon Kahl was murdered and had led a campaign legally to punish those who had done the killing. This campaign was transformed by the government into a conspiracy to kill the killers.

Louis' opening remarks to the jury, it is generally agreed, laid away the government's case before it could get going. "You will be told," he said, "that I and Pastor Butler and Pastor Miles are enemies of this government. This is the truth. The federal government is my enemy and by the time this trial is over you will understand that the government is your enemy, too..."

"The government will produce witnesses who will say terrible and fantastic lies about me and the others. Watch these witnesses very closely. Watch their eyes and their body English as they lie. Watch them squirm and shift around and tap their feet..." Of course, when Ellison and the others took the stand the jurors couldn't but wait expectantly for the nervous gyrations to start. Ellison was called first and recounted the episode in which Louis had agreed to overthrow the government in the group which sat around Richard Butler's kitchen table. He told how Bob Miles had obtained a barrel of cyanide to the Aryan Nations which Louis and the rest would pour into the water supply of Washington, DC. With his itching and scratching and bouncing knee he didn't disappoint the jurors but they were absolutely delighted when Ellison's associate, Kerry Noble, took the stand and the subject of the cyanide barrel came up. "That? Aw, Ellison had me buy that some time ago..."

The other witnesses fared no better. Louis questioned them himself. At one point Judge Arnold admonished him, "You can't say it that way, Mr. Beam. If you want to say that sort of thing, say it this way..." Arnold's great-grandfather had been a Confederate officer. He would often take his lunch in the same cafeteria where the defendants' supporters ate and nod affably and say something friendly to them as he passed. He paused near their tables and spoke to someone in a loud enough voice to be overheard: "I hope we can get this garbage over with—I've got important cases to try!" The supporters couldn't believe their ears.

In the early stages of the trial the vindictive federal marshals saw to it that the defendants got only one meal a day. Louis became their spokesman in this matter, too. He told the chief marshal that they were getting one meal and it was inedible slop. "Well, that's what you get here," responded the marshal.

"We want regular food," insisted Louis. "If these boys don't get enough to eat I'm afraid they're going to get weak. We'll probably just fall down from hunger and you'll have to carry us in to the courtroom everyday. Judge Arnold probably wouldn't want to see something like that..."

The marshal hesitated. "What sort of food do you want? Hamburgers?"

"Hamburgers might do for some," said Louis, "but not for everybody. I think you ought to give us salad and hamburgers." They got their food.

They also got acquitted. The jury found all defendants not guilty of all charges. The marshals told Louis they were going to take him back to jail to be released from there. "Was I found not guilty or not? If I'm a free man then I am walking out of this courtroom!" Whereupon he walked out with Sheila on his arm. They walked across the street to the Confederate memorial and Louis gave a rousing victory speech against the federal government. Sheila fainted from the pain she was in and from the incredibility of their stunning victory. There is a wonderful picture of Louis carrying an unconscious Sheila in his arms as he walks away from the Confederate memorial.

***

Norm Stevenson, the FBI special agent in charge of catching Louis, wanted to talk to him. He approached through a third party. For some demented reason he still thought he could get information out of Louis, whom he'd told during the trial, "My marriage broke up over this case."

"Well," said Louis, "I guess I did your wife a favor." His only message back to Stevenson was, "Anytime you want me to tell you how you blew this case, let me know."

David McGuire, one of the defendants, noticed during the trial that an attractive blonde juror was more than a little interested in him. They were married soon after the acquittal and are today living happily in Ft. Smith.

Richard Butler has a copy of the original indictment which each of the defendants signed, the way people sign a yearbook.

Judge Arnold signed it, too.

Today Luis Calderón, Sheila's chief federale torturer, is in a Mexican federal prison for drug trafficking. □

THE ANTI-HUMANS

by D. Bacu (307 pp., hb.) describes what was done to the young men whom Corneliu Z. Codreanu, the founder of the Legionary Movement in Romania, inspired, when seven years after his brutal murder, Romania was delivered to the Bolsheviks. They were subjected to what is the most fully documented Pavlovian experiment on a large number of human beings. It is likely that the same techniques were used on many American prisoners in Korea and Vietnam. The Anti Humans is a well-written document of great historical and psychological importance. ### DOES THE WEST HAVE THE WILL TO SURVIVE?

That is the obvious question posed by Jean Raspail's terrifying novel of the swamping of the White world by an unlimited flood of non-White "refugees." But there is also a less obvious and even more fundamental question: Must Whites find their way to a new Morality and a new spirituality in order to face the moral challenges of the present and overcome them? THE CAMP OF THE SAINTS is the most frightening book you will ever read. It is frightening because it is utterly believable. The armada of refugee ships in Raspail's story is exactly like the one that dumped 150,000 Cubans from Fidel Castro's prisons and insane asylums on our shores in 1980 — except this time the armada is from India, with more than 70 times as large a population. And it is only the first armada of many. If any book will awaken White Americans to the danger they face from uncontrolled immigration, it is THE CAMP OF THE SAINTS. # VERBAL AMMUNITION FOR WHITE NATIONALISTS

The Anti-Jew Spew Antidote to the Communist Planet of the Apes

by

Katrina Vanderpool

This paper is dedicated to the task of dismantling some of the most widely used Jewish establishment arguments against White racialists. The technique involved here is actually more important than the content of the arguments presented. Since the public possesses such a short attention span, we will jolt them with NS sound bites. Specific examples will be given to demonstrate this two-step verbal blitzkrieg.

It should be clearly evident to all White nationalists that there is a string of cliché labels used against us by the Jewish press and their collaborators. These word weapons have been far too effective in paralyzing racialists and frightening away our sympathizers. Our task is to very quickly neutralize these emotionally charged terms and have them boomerang back on the opposition. We must never allow ourselves to be left on the defensive.

The Jewish media has trained the sheep-like public to respond to words such as "racism" or "discrimination" in a predetermined way. This conditioned response was created in much the same way that Pavlov trained his dog. However, this conditioned response can be weakened or even broken by refusing to play by their rules.

Remember that the Jews expect everyone to play within their carefully controlled parameters such as the phony Democratic party vs. the GOP political spectrum. So the first task is to blow down their borders and gore their sacred cow immediately. Do this quickly and then move on to where you want to position yourself before you launch your offensive.

The second step is, take control of the argument and to aggressively attack their ideas. Quickly put them on the defensive. The key to success is for the nationalist to take the offensive against our enemies and to drive them off the field. Use facts, observable truths, and connect the dots for people so that they may see the Jewish pattern of control.

Submitted for your approval are most of the shop-worn labels that are used against us by the media. Brain-dead TV tabloid audiences are especially fond of regurgitating them. The most commonly used cliché terms are: racist, hate group, anti-Semitic, Fascist or Nazi, ignorance, equality of man, White supremacist, etc. I intend to show how to take these terms and ram them down the Jewish attack dog's throat.

1. Racism: How many times have you witnessed a thoughtful objective White person squirm uncomfortably when denounced as a "racist?" The accuser assumes this pious mantle of righteousness, while denouncing the evils of racism. Serious objective discussion is often terminated at this point. The accused White person will then unconvincingly spend most of his or her time trying to evade this onerous label, instead of delving into the serious issues at hand. The accuser will appear to stand triumphantly on the alleged high moral ground. This scenario is played out daily with always the same outcome. The reason being that the unsuspecting White did not contest the basic rules of morality imposed on him. The premise that racism is bad went unchallenged.

Now lets replay this scenario using our rules. The first thing to do is knock the opponent off their high moral pedestal. This will invariably disorient your foe. They are often left stammering and confused since you have deviated from their script. In other words, you have pulled the rug out from under them. The second step involves dragging your hapless foe through the mud.

Here is my response to being labeled a racist. Racism and xenophobia are nothing more than survival tools of a species. Every healthy species or subspecies must protect its gene pool at all cost. By preventing me and my race from expressing healthy racist tendencies is tantamount to advocating genocide against my people.

Notice that not only did I quickly demonstrate that racism is good, but that I have also soiled my accuser with the charge of genocide! This is the two-step Jew Spew Antidote Program in a nutshell. After this is delivered, you are free to pursue many of your own related NS arguments against race mixing (i.e., the L.A. nightmare or Brazil's out of control mulatto street population etc.).

2. Hate Group: Did you ever notice that all White nationalist groups are always labeled as "hate groups" by the media? Of course the Jewish created ANC [African National Congress] is never designated as a hate group. The ANC has viciously murdered more victims than all the White nationalist groups combined, we all know about this double standard.

This is probably one of the most subjective labels used by the Jews. The accuser obviously hates you but somehow thinks the label doesn't apply to himself. The bottom line is that there is no objective definition of what a hate group even is.

When accused of being in a "hate group" or of being a "hater," I would reply as follows. You are right, I am in a group that hates the moral hypocrisy that you subscribe to. We hate your system's crime, degeneracy, industrial and chemical pollution, and your usury banking system. What of it? Your group hates responsibility, expressions of love for the White race, beauty, intelligence, and of course Natural Law. The real question is, are you in a White racist hate group or a Jew spew collaborator hate group?

This is a case of playing off the label and making sure that it sticks to the Jews as much as it does to us. The key is to not even attempt to deny it. Simply show that the label itself is beyond useless and completely absurd.

3. Anti-Semitism: Most nationalist and populist oriented people will own up to being anti-Zionist but not anti-Semitic. I propose yet another twist to this major fear inducing label.

Are you anti-Semitic? No, I have nothing against Arabs per se. However, I am anti-Jewish as are most Arabs. I simply recognize that Judaism is a destructive force used against all productive, healthy nations. By the way, Jews are obviously anti-Aryan yet they are never labeled as such.

This method shows that this label is imprecise and that other Semites feel as strongly as we do about the Jews. This also shows the notorious double standard which operates in favor of the Jews.

4. Fascist or Nazi: These terms are supposed to be used as pejoratives. However, I enthusiastically embrace both words when applied to myself. This is of course not what the opposition is expecting.

I am a Fascist, or more precisely, a National Socialist. National Socialists believe in loyalty based on the genetic bonds of race, not loyalty to the dollar that Jewish capitalism advocates. We recognize the fact that you can only have a better society by populating it with better people. This is in direct contrast to the lowest common denominator type people that democracy forever subsidizes.

This statement illustrates the pride and courage that we feel toward our cause. Never compromise our NS principles or try to hide them. Always force the opposition to confront reality. The above gambit can easily lead to a major airing of democracy's dirty laundry.

5. Ignorance: This is the label that is not used as frequently as it once was. However, it is occasionally brought up by moronic blacks, so let's deal with it.

The argument starts out by some claim that racism is caused by ignorance. My reply would be that ignorance is essentially caused by a lack of knowledge. Since I can easily cite both scientific facts and quote many authoritative sources, I would like you to do the same. For instance, what study have you seen that contradicts Dr. Vint's Black vs. White brain morphology study, or Dr. Shockley's findings on intelligence differences between Blacks and Whites? This will probably silence your foe immediately. However, if he is dull witted enough to continue, then unbridled sarcasm can be used to finish him off. For instance, persist in making him divulge his sources. Ask him what is his primary source of information, TV sitcoms or MTV videos?

The ignorance label can quickly be used to boomerang back on your foe as shown above. If your foe is ill informed he will be made to look stupid as well as ignorant. At any rate, it will be necessary to demonstrate that the ignorant label does not apply to you.

6. Equality: We hear that "we are all equal" ad nauseam, especially from brainwashed Whites. Jew spew religions of course really promulgate this idea. In fact, the doctrine of equality is a very powerful superstition in our society. However, I will simply use reality to evaporate this mirage.

The statement "We are all equal" means that each of us is completely interchangeable with one another. There would be no such thing as talent or differences in intelligence. This, of course, flies in the face of all observable fact. Since this position is untenable, they will then assert that "all races are equal." My reply is that we were all given dirt, rocks, and trees. Now what did each race do with its set of dirt, rocks, and trees? The Negroes never came up with a written language, the wheel, or anything resembling a true civilization. If natural resources are key factors in human development, then why isn't resource rich Angola giving foreign aid to resource poor Iceland?

otry and mine is this: I am open and honest about mine, while you are disingenuous and hypocritical about yours.

Once again I have demonstrated that these labels apply to everyone. They are purely diversionary. Remember that whatever benefits the White Race is good, while anything that hinders it is evil. We follow our ethical code not theirs.

9. White Superiority vs. The Human Race: Obviously some of these labels have overlapping meanings. These poorly defined terms often creep up in racial discussions. My recommendation is to destroy all credibility in the notion of the "nobility of the human race" before anything else.

In contrast to White supremacists, Human supremacists believe that all Homo Sapience are completely above the laws of nature that govern all other life on earth. White supremacists do not recognize the significance of the so-called "human race" which is nothing more than an arbitrary grouping of talking bipeds. We simply acknowledge that the majority of "humanity" could be easily classified as worthless, resource depleting food tubes.

This is a very harsh rebuke to anyone that believes that human life is somehow more precious than other species. The truth of the matter is that most of us prefer the company of dogs and cats to that of blacks and Jews. Do people actually enjoy the crush of humanity or do they try to avoid the crowds?

10. Open Mindedness vs. Closed Mindedness: As racialists, we are often chastised by race mixers to "open our minds." What they really mean is for us to turn off our minds so that they can brainwash and manipulate us.

I keep an open mind on an issue until I have enough information from all opposing viewpoints to make a decision pro or con. At that point the issue is closed unless further data presents itself. With regards to miscegenation, my mind is now closed because the preponderance of evidence is against it, while there is noth-

I am constantly amazed how this equality argument goes unchallenged. In many ways it is the easiest to debunk. It should not only be disproved by a cogent argument but should actually be heavily ridiculed. There are many pathways that can be pursued to attack the equality argument.

7. Discrimination: Remember when a well-bred person was said to have discriminating taste and that this was meant as a compliment? Now, of course, we are supposed to have the powers of observation and judgment of amoebas. After all, intelligent discernment of racial differences might hurt someone's feelings. Therefore the Jews and Judeo-Christians want us to abandon all reason and intelligence and embrace their idiotic belief in equality (see above).

Discrimination is applying one's acquired knowledge to everyday decision making. For instance, choosing gold over lead or celery instead of hemlock are important decisions that would be impossible without the power of discrimination. In much the same way, I prefer the company of intelligent, creative Whites to graffiti-scrawling criminal blacks. It's called reality, look into it.

The idea that discrimination is bad is another ludicrous notion that can bring grievous harm to anyone who practises non-discrimination. This is another very soft target so don't hesitate to sink it.

8. Prejudice or Bigotry: These terms get hurled at us by inferiors who want something for nothing. Giving them a chance means giving them unfair advantage over Whites (e.g., quotas). This is another big con to separate productive White people from their hard earned money.

Aren't you prejudiced against racists? Didn't you come here with a bigoted notion of what a "Nazi" is? Why is it considered bad to practice prejudice and bigotry in favor of the White Race, while your use of prejudice and bigotry in favor of dysgenic bottom feeders is considered good? This difference between your brand of prejudice and big-ing substantial to support it. Miscegenation practiced in both ancient Aryan India and the Spanish colony of Mexico destroyed their peoples' genetic ability to maintain or advance civilization. The White people in these lands degenerated into the mongrel over-breeding hordes of today. Are you open minded enough to consider these conclusions? If not, then show me a nation were race mixing actually improved its status.

This is a case where I lucidly explain why I do not reject the label. However, the establishment dupes once again find themselves hopelessly ensnared in a trap that was set for me. Within this argument, I also destroyed all credibility in miscegenation.

11. The Myths of America: Several pernicious myths are constantly promoted by the Establishment to keep patriots in line. Once again they are trying to ensure unquestioning loyalty to the flag, the Constitution, and democracy. Let's knock them down like a row of dominoes.

A. The Flag: Americans are supposed to get all misty over the hoisting of "Old Glory." However, the history of the flag during this century is nothing to marvel at.

To the charge of being anti-American or disloyal to the flag I must reply that my loyalty is unquestionably to my race. I can not pledge allegiance to a red, white, and blue rag that represents genocide of the White Race as it most certainly does now.

B. The Constitution: Gee, don't we just love those constitutional republicans whining about how unconstitutional our government is? One would think that this magical document is good under class.

Once again I must reaffirm my loyalty to my race and not to a piece of paper. Unscrupulous politicians that have sold out their race and nation are not going to have pains of conscience over violating any constitution. The revered system of checks and balances is nothing more than foxes guarding the hen house.

C. Democracy: We are constantly told that as imperfect as democracy is, that it is still the best system possible. Like Plato, who rated democracy as the second to the worst type of government, I find it hard to believe that wallowing in ever new lows of depravity is the best we can do. Democracy is a bloated sacred cow that needs to be put out to pasture permanently.

Democracy promotes ideas such as every human carcass has inalienable rights, that the Jews are above all criticism, and that the White Race must foot the bill for every miscreant on the planet. Democracy creates hopeless pyramid schemes to fund its social programs and is administered by corrupt, irresponsible bureaucracies. Democracy is nothing but a sham run by an internationalist slave master that is forcing all of us to work ourselves to death on its global plantation. Democracy proves the Orwellian slogan that "freedom is slavery."

D. Nation of Immigrants: This lame excuse is used to hold open the immigration floodgate to the Third World. Do we really need such "cultural contributions" as disease, poverty, and crime from these Third World rock kickers?

America was built by White immigrants in a span of about one hundred years. This is something that the New World aborigines failed to do in over ten thousand years of their occupation of this same land. Early White immigrants had to risk both life and limb in order to build this nation from scratch. In contrast to the hardships faced by the White immigrants, the non-White immigrants of today enjoy free education, free medical care, and of course welfare.

Note the stunning contrast drawn between yesterday's White immigrants and today's mud race freeloaders. Once again, I have allowed reality to overtake the myth.

E. The Melting Pot & Multiculturalism: These ideas are fine when they are applied to various White ethnic groups, but it is a disaster when other races are introduced. The following allegory demonstrates the folly of race mixing that these notions promote.

Imagine if a chef made a stew by randomly tossing in such incongruous ingredients as strawberries, cottage cheese, lemons, bagels, chocolate, and liver. The result would be a pail full of slop fit only to be eaten by pigs. The government uses this same haphazard approach in its current integration policies. The notion of the melting pot and multiculturalism will inevitably degenerate Americans into an unsavory race of nondescript mongrel.

Obviously, I am engaging in a scorched earth policy with regards to the American myths. White European blood is the factor most responsible for the past success and prosperity of America. As Western (White) Civilization is rapidly being mongrelized and looted by the Judeo-Christian axis, we must fight to keep our blood pure and our vision clear.

12. Christianity: The Jews adopted a ruthless racist religion for themselves, while palming off a sickly, defeatist, sucker religion on all of us Gentiles.

Christianity is an imbecilic fraud at best and a Jewish weapon of White genocide at worst. In the past, Christianity rotted-out and destroyed the great Roman Empire. Presently, it is casting White Civilization down into a new dark age. Most of us think that only immature children believe in Santa Claus who rewards good girls and boys; yet straight-faced adults claim that they will be similarly rewarded by another unsubstantiated super-being in the "afterlife." Christianity is just more Jew spew that dupes its believers into betraying their own race and destroying their own civilization for the sake of gaining a personal cushy spot in "Heaven." What kind of god is going to reward such a despicable lot of traitors with eternal life?

Even when racialists try to make over the Bible into their own image, they are still left with suicidal doctrines such as "love your enemies" (Jews), "the last shall be first"

(morons and degenerates), blessed are the poor in spirit; blessed are the meek" (praising vile criminals and cowards), and "think not of tomorrow for tomorrow will take care of itself" (instructing us to never plan ahead or set goals). Christianity is mental AIDS which becomes more virulent with each passing year. Christianity is the bastion of race treason and race mixing. Racialists can no longer afford to be charitable toward it.

Some of you readers might be surprised to know that such a fanatical article was written by a woman. However, feminists will be disappointed to hear that I submitted this paper strictly for the cause of White Revolution, not for gender equality. I simply synthesized many of the ideas that I have gleaned from my own National Alliance comrades, as well as from such luminaries as Adolf Hitler, Leon Degrelle, Revilo Oliver, George Lincoln Rockwell, and many others. It is my fervent hope that this article will further aid our great cause. □

Dear Sir:

You Germans are just not with it when it comes to writing German names in English. You miss some of the nuances of the English language.

For example, in times past, when writing about the psychologist, Dr. Freud, most have used the German spelling which is F-R-E-U-D. Now the correct English spelling is F-R-A-U-D, and that gives the reader a much more accurate idea about the man and his work. So in your future writings it should be Dr. Fraud.

Now comes the movie which in correct German is "Schindler's List." However, in English it is spelled "Swindler's List." This English word gives a much more accurate understanding on what the movie is about. So, when you write about the movie in the future, you should use the English spelling, which is S-w-i-n-d-l-e-r's List.

Yours truly,
H.N.S., Chicago

Dear George:

Naturally I was amused by page 50 of your April issue!

Isn't there anything we intelligent Americans can do, in order to repay the wonderful Germans for what they ARE? I myself am sick and tired of listening to idiots and fools, criticizing The Good Germans... Painful enough to hear these idiots ridiculing The French ("those froggies"); disgusting to hear them ridiculing The English ("those snobs") — but when they criticize the Germans... I must walk out of the room before I loose my temper entirely!!!

The greatest leading nation of Europe, insulted over and again by garbage can mentality... How much longer must absurdity be endured?

I think our Waldo Emerson had it right when this poet-philosopher said: "Unless to Intellect is added Will—Apollo is an embecile!" Sure, pure reason is supreme, but without Hard Hands to defend it, what next?

Sincerely yours

Dear George:

Disquieting is the argument between Professor Robert Faurisson and Friedrich P. Berg over the question of gas chambers. Professor Faurisson seems to be saying that there were no homicidal gas chambers in the camps. Fred Leuchter's Report seems to substantiate that. When the professor says, "Show me or draw me a gas chamber," he means a homicidal gas chamber of the type alleged to have been used in Auschwitz.

Certainly Professor Faurisson believes that the Germans could have built such a gas chamber to kill people, but he argues that the only type they actually built was a gas chamber, or delousing chamber if you will, to fumigate the clothing and bedding of camp inmates. Mr. Berg counters by charging that the Germans built huge railroad tunnels for the purpose of delousing entire trains, which indicated that they had the technology to build homicidal gas chambers. Few can take issue with that.

The question remains: Did the German National Socialist State design a program of genocide of Jews and others using lethal cyanide? The answer is: Without a written order to this effect—and David Irving has searched in vain for such an order—there can be no question that such a plan was neither formulated nor carried out. So the argument between these two gentlemen seems to be one of semantics. Professor Faurisson wants someone to show him a picture, or draw him a picture, of an actual, working homicidal gas chamber in one of the camps. Now there must be a "survivor" somewhere about who will come forward with a contrivance he will swear was the one that gassed him twelve times. That, however, won't fool anyone—except maybe Steve Spielbum, who has Amon Goeth shooting people in Schwindler's List from a house down a hill and a balcony that faced away from the camp exercise yard!

Sincerely, Maj. Donald V. Clerkin

Dear Border Watch /AICF:

America is dead.

Nothing can reverse the Third Worldization of North America short of a complete takeover by Aryan forces loyal to the Western culture and the white race. That is unlikely due to the fact that the white masses seem lobotomized as to the fate that awaits them upon becoming a minority. Long before that, the Washington camarilla will collapse of its own profligacy. Then at least the best of the whites will have an opportunity to establish a new Republic—for whites only—and only those whites who have demonstrated their willingness to preserve their race and culture, the founding stone of every nation.

So let Lush Limpnutz smoke his Cuban stogies and wave his gold-fringed flag of financial empire, the Admiralty banner of the Uniform Commercial Code that has replaced the Constitution and the Bill of Rights in the courts. It is all coming to an end, but Limpnutz won't be a part of the new beginning.

Sincerely, Maj. Donald V. Clerkin

Dear Editor:

As I left my Greendale polling place today, I noticed a gold-fringed American flag standing by the door. In the lot outside was a car with a miniature gold-fringed flag on the antenna. In my studies of the law, I came across a 1938 case, Erie Railroad v. Tompkins [304 U.S. 64, 114 A.L.R. 14387], which overturned Swift v. Tompkins, an 1840 case [16 Pet. 1], on the grounds that the Swift case had wrongly implied a common law jurisdiction for the Federal courts. After Erie Railroad v. Tompkins the Federal Courts were required to glean law from the Negotiable Instruments Acts, there being no further access to the common law in the states for the Federal benches. So the Congress created something called the Uniform Commercial Code (U.C.C.) for the Federal Courts.

Federal Courts sit in the states. Those state citizens and corporations that bring suits in the Federal courts now bring them under the U.C.C., and since the early 1960s the states have been replacing the common law with state statutes based on the U.C.C. Wisconsin, like all other states, is now a "code pleading state." The common law pleadings have been put aside.

What has this to do with gold-fringed flags? The gold-fringed flag is the insignia of Admiralty Jurisdiction, of the international nature of the U.C.C. The common law flag of the United States and the Republic for which it stands, is without a gold fringe. Any place that displays a gold-fringed flag is showing its fealty to the international concept, denying the sovereignty of the United States, denying the American Republic and the separate nature of the states of the Union.

Dear Editor:

Thank you for printing my last response to Prof. Robert Faurisson in spite of his request to have the last word.

Thank you also for reproducing the actual page showing Faurisson's answer beneath my drawing of a real Nazi gas chamber. Your readers can see for themselves that Faurisson has twice underlined the pronoun "I." That underlining is, I believe, more revealing than all of his other statements in defense of his badly formulated nine-word challenge: "Show me or draw me a Nazi gas chamber."

Although Faurisson deserves great respect for much of his work and especially for his personal sacrifices, he does great harm nonetheless with his ceaseless repetition of pseudo-technical arguments which have no scientific basis whatsoever. Some of Robert Frenz's criticisms are actually valid. Tragically, some compelling arguments against the Holocaust story are actually suppressed within some revisionist publications because the editors, as at the IHR, are unwilling to risk hurting Faurisson's feelings. Just as the Holocaust story has become a new religion, Holocaust revisionism may become a new religion also with high priests and blindly devoted true-believers.

I offer a second counterchallenge to Robert Faurisson and anyone else:— Return to me a picture of the railroad delousing tunnel in Budapest with one sentence added saying that this was not a Nazi Gas chamber or that it could not have been used for mass murder. (Anyone needing those issues of the Journal of Historical Review or of Liberty Bell in which such pictures appeared should write these publications for some photocopies.)

Nazi gas chambers that were actually used for fumigating entire railroad trains would have also been ideal for mass murder—but they never have even been implicated by the exterminationists. They are indirect but strong evidence of just how crazy the holocaust story really is. How pitiful that Faurisson, and his followers, cannot recognize the obvious.

Sincerely yours, Friedrich Paul Berg

George-

Thanks for the speedy delivery of my recent book order. I especially enjoyed Gruesome Harvest (available from LBP, $5.00 + $1.50 for postage). I wish this book could be read by every German-American worthy of the name.

Regarding the letter from Valentin Prussakov in the April L.B., I am one of those who responded to his R.N.U. ad in the January issue. I even sent him a few bucks. He claims he is not able to respond to a "few dozen" L.B. readers who wrote to him. If Mr. Prussakov is trying to cultivate support in this country for his R.N.U., it would behoove him to make an effort to respond to those correspondents, even if it is only with a 1-page form letter. I know I won't send any more contributions. It is a shame, because the White Nationalist Movement in America is pathetic, and I would just as soon support a promising movement in Russia.

Sincerely, F.K., Colorado

George:

Sorry for the delay. Please renew my sub. Keep up the good work. I am pleased to read of the "race" convention scheduled for next month in the south.

I still maintain that the problem with Europeans and transplanted Europeans is "Christianity."

Figures Don't Lie — Do They?

Editor:

Holocaust? No emotional diatribes—just explain where the "Holocaust" six million came from. World Almanac and Book of Facts 1934 and 1945 show that between 1931 and 1945 world Jewry averaged 15,500,000 based on American Jewish Committee and Religious population figures. European Jewry under Hitler's control approximated 5,815,842—below the six million claim. Subtracting Jews who emigrated from Europe leaves 2,115,842 Jews in Europe during W.W. II. Why were Jews so hated by Germans? In March of 1933 the World Jewish Congress called on Jews to boycott German goods. In August of the same year Samuel Untermeyer of the World Jewish Economic Federation, over the Columbia Broadcasting Station in New York City, said the Jews of the world had declared war on Germany and would starve them (the Germans) to death. That "declaration of war" came six years before Germany initiated military action in 1939.

The World Centre of Contemporary Jewish documentation in Paris shows 1,485,292 Jews died from all causes in concentration camps. The Red Cross says 300,000 concentration camp deaths—not all Jews. Of course, many died, and, yes, "stacked like cordwood" for Allied bombers near war's end destroyed food and medical supply lines. Jews AND Germans alike died; cremation and mass burial was necessary to prevent a Holocaust of plague, but through all this world-wide Jewry figures remained constant from 1931 through 1945. So where did the Six Million Figure come from?

SAMUEL UNTERMAYER'S "SACRED WAR" SPEECH OF AUGUST 7, 1993

Upon his return from the world-wide
International Jewish Boycott Conference at Amsterdam, Holland.
(From New York Times, August 7, 1993)

My Friends:

What a joy and relief and sense of security to be once more on American soil! The nightmare of horrors through which I have passed in those two weeks in Europe, listening to the heartbreaking tales of refugee victims, beggar description.

I deeply appreciate your enthusiastic greeting on my arrival today, which I quite understand is addressed not to me personally but to the holy war in the cause of humanity in which we are embarked, Jews and non-Jews alike, for we are equally concerned that the work of centuries shall not be undone, and that civilization shall not be allowed to die.

It is a war that must be waged unremittingly until the black clouds of bigotry, race hatred and fanaticism that have descended upon what was once Germany, but is now medieval Hitlerland, have been dispersed. If we will but enlist to a man and persist in our purpose the bright sun of civilization will again shine upon Germany, and the world will be a safer place in which to dwell.

As our ship sailed up the bay today past our proud Statue of Liberty, I breathed a prayer of gratitude and thanksgiving that this fair land of freedom has escaped the curse that has descended upon benighted Germany, which has thereby been converted from a nation of culture into a veritable hell of cruel and savage beasts.

THE WORLD'S CONCERN

We owe it not only to our persecuted brethren but to the entire world to now strike in self-defense a blow that will free humanity from a repetition of this incredible outrage.

This time the Jews are the victims, next time it may be the Catholics or the Protestants. If we once admit, as is brazenly insisted by the German Government, that such fiendish persecution of the people of one race or creed is an internal, domestic affair and not a world concern, how are we to know whose turn will be next?

Now or never must all the nations of the earth make common cause against the monstrous claim that the slaughter, starvation and annihilation, by a country that has reverted to barbarism, of its own innocent and defenseless citizens without rhyme, reason or excuse is an internal affair against which the rest of the world must stand idly by and not lift a hand in defense.

I have seen and talked with many of these terror-stricken refugees who have had the good fortune to escape over the border, though forced to leave their property behind them, and I want to say to you that nothing has seeped through to you over the rigid censorship and lying propaganda that are at work to conceal and misrepresent the situation of the Jews in Germany begins to tell a fraction of the frightful story of fiendish torture, cruelty and persecution that are being inflicted day by day upon these men, women and children, or the terrors of worse than death in which they are living.

When the tale is told, as it will be some day if the impotent League of Nations ever sufficiently awakens from its Rip Van Winkle slumbers to the realization of its power and duty to prosecute an investigation into the facts, the world will confront a picture so fearful in its barbarous cruelty that the hell of war and the alleged Belgian atrocities will pale into insignificance as compared to this devilishly, deliberately, cold-bloodedly planned and already partially executed campaign for the extermination of a proud, gentle [sic], loyal [sic], law-abiding [sic] people—a people who love and have shed their blood for their Fatherland [sic], and to whom Germany owes in large part its prosperity and its great scientists, educators, lawyers, physicians, poets, musicians, diplomats and philosophers, who are the backbone of its past cultural life [that's the best one I have heard in a long time!!— Ed. LB] .

BACK TO THE DARK AGES

ages wrought by these ingrates and beasts of prey, animated by the loathsome motives of race hatred, bigotry and envy. For the Jews are the aristocrats of the world. From time immemorial they have been persecuted and have seen their persecutors come and go. They alone have survived. And so will history repeat itself, but that furnishes no reason why we should permit this reversion of a once great nation to the Dark Ages or fail to rescue these 600,000 human souls from the tortures of hell, as we can with the aid of our Christian friends, if we have the will to act.

Protests and pleas from all corners of the earth, from the leaders of all creeds, having proven as vain and unavailing, as was the idealistic dream of our martyred President of making the world safe for democracy and of protecting minorities, what then are to be the lines of our defensive campaign against these atrocities, on which we are already actively embarked? Are we right in our plan? If so, what steps shall now be prosecuted to attain success?

Our campaign is two-fold—defensive and constructive. On the defensive side will be economic boycott against all German goods, shipping and services. On the constructive side will be an appeal to the League of Nations to construe and enforce the labor union provisions of the Versailles Treaty and the written promises made by Germany, while the treaty was under negotiations, to protect its minorities, which have been flagrantly violated by its disfranchisement and persecution of the German Jews.

WHAT BOYCOTT MEANS

As to the boycott, strange to say a mere handful in number, but powerful in influence, of our thoughtless but doubtless well-intentioned Jews seem to be obsessed and frightened at the bare mention of the word boycott. It signifies and conjures up to them images of force and illegality, such as have on occasions in the past characterized struggles between labor unions and their employers. As these timid souls are capitalists and employers, the word and all that it implies are hateful to their ears.

In point of fact, it signifies nothing of the kind. These gentlemen do not know what they are talking or thinking about. Instead of surrendering to their vague fears and half-baked ideas, our first duty is to educate them as to what is meant by a purely defensive economic boycott, and what we are doing and proposing. Admittedly, the boycott is our only really effective weapon. These gentlemen who are taking counsel of their groundless fears to the exclusion of their reason have done nothing and have no program except to attempt to arouse world opinion, which is and has been from the outset on our side, as it was bound to be because of this brutal, senseless, unprovoked assault upon civilization.

It is not necessary to belittle or underrate that accomplishment, if their aimless, fruitless endeavors in that direction may be so dignified in recognition of their good intentions, the barren of results as they have been. It is sufficient that their efforts have proven unavailing and that the campaign of Schrecklichkeit not only goes on unabated in the face of unanimous world opinion but that it is not increasing in intensity and that the masses of the German people, misled by government propaganda and suppression of free speech and of the press, are either voluntarily, or through fear of punishment at the hands of their despotic rulers, supporting their government in this hellish campaign. What then have these amiable gentlemen accomplished and what do they hope or expect to accomplish in the way of stemming this conflagration of civilization by their "feather-duster" methods? You cannot put out a fire, and especially that kind of a fire by just looking on until the mad flames, fanned by the wind of hate, have destroyed everything. What we are proposing and have already gone far toward doing, is to prosecute a purely defensive economic boycott that will undermine the Hitler regime and bring the German people to their senses by destroying their export trade on which their very existence depends.

'FORCE THEM TO LEARN'

They have flaunted and persisted in flaunting and defying world opinion. We propose to and are organizing world opinion to express itself in the only way Germany can be made to understand. Hitler and his mob will not permit their people to know how they are regarded by the outside world. We shall force them to learn in the only way open to us.

Revolting as it is, it would be an interesting study in psychology to analyze the motives, other than fear and cowardice, that have prompted Jewish Bankers to lend money to Germany as they are now doing. It is in part their money that is being used by the Hitler regime in its reckless, wicked campaign of propaganda to make the world anti-Semitic; with that money they have invaded Great Britain, the United States and other countries where they have established newspapers, subsidized agents and otherwise are spending untold millions in spreading their infamous creed.

The suggestion that they use that money toward paying the honest debts they have repudiated is answered only by contemptuous sneers and silence. Meantime the infamous campaign goes on unabated with ever increasing intensity to the everlasting disgrace of the Jewish bankers who are helping to finance it and of the weaklings who are doing nothing effective to check it.

The Hitler regime originated and are fiendishly prosecuting their boycott to exterminate the Jews by placarding Jewish shops, warning Germans against dealing with them, by imprisoning Jewish shopkeepers and parading them through the streets by the hundreds under guard of Nazi troops for the sole crime of being Jews, by ejecting them from the learned professions in which many of the had attained eminence, by excluding their children from the schools, their men from the labor unions, closing against them every avenue of livelihood, locking them in vile concentration camps, starving and torturing them, murdering and beating them without cause and resorting to every other conceivable form of torture, inhuman beyond conception, until suicide has become their only means of escape, and all solely because they are or their remote ancestors were Jews, and all with the avowed object of exterminating them.

APPEAL TO MANKIND

As against this, the foulest boycott in the annals of time, we are appealing to all mankind to enforce a counter-boycott, That appeal is meeting with the conviction that idealism and justice are still alive.

There is nothing new in the use of economic boycott as an instrument of justice. The covenant of the League of Nations expressly provides in these identical words for its use to bring recalcitrant nations to terms. President Roosevelt, whose wise statesmanship and vision are the wonder of the civilized world, is invoking it in furtherance of his noble conception for the readjustment of the relations between capital and labor under the terms of the sweeping Industrial Recovery Act, to the end that labor shall receive a more just share of the wealth it creates. He is about to enlist the consumers of the country in a national campaign in which they pledge themselves to boycott all manufacturers, jobbers and retailers who fail to subscribe to the codes and to buy only from those who have assented and who are thereby privileged to fly the blue eagle of NRA. What more exalted precedent to our timid friends want?

With this explanation of our aims, I appeal to the American Jewish Committee, whose public spirit and good intentions I do not for a moment question, but the wisdom of whose judgment I challenge, no longer to hold aloof but to rid themselves of their timid and ill-considered prejudices and join in actively pressing this boycott as our only weapon except the appeal to the League, which I shall discuss at a later time.

I purposely refrain from including the American Jewish Congress in this appeal because I am satisfied that 95 per cent of their members, are already with us and that they are being misrepresented by two or three men now abroad. Of them I ask that, prior to the meeting to be held this month in Prague by their executive committee, they instruct these false leaders in no uncertain terms as to the stand they must take on this all-important subject and demand that they shall either openly represent their views or resign their offices. One of them, generally recognized as the king-pin of mischief makers, is junketing around the Continent engaged in his favorite pastime of spreading discord, asserting at one time and place that he favors and supports the boycott and at another that he is opposed or indifferent to it, all dependent on the audience he is addressing; but always directly or indirectly delivering a stab in the dark.

PROGRESS SO FAR MADE

There is not time now, but I hope and expect in the near future to be able to report to you the steps that have been taken and that are already under way, and the surprising and gratifying progress already made in many countries toward the success of the economic boycott in which we are engaged. Although considerable progress in that direction has already been made in Great Britain and in the United States, you will be surprised to learn that they are the least advanced and as yet the most inadequately organized of all the countries that were represented at the Amsterdam World Economic Conference, where the boycott was unanimously and enthusiastically approved by formal resolution by a rising vote.

With us in America the delay has been due in part to lack of funds and the vast territory to be covered, but it is hoped and expected that this condition will soon be corrected. The object-lesson we are determined to teach is so priceless to all humanity that we dare not fail.

Each of you, Jew and Gentile alike, who has not already enlisted in this sacred war should do so now and here. It is not sufficient that you buy no goods made in Germany. You must refuse to deal with any merchant or shopkeeper who sells any German-made goods or who patronizes German ships or shipping. To our shame be it said that there are a few Jews among us, but fortunately only a few, so wanting in dignity and self-respect that they are willing to travel on German ship where they are despised and meet with the just contempt of the servants who wait upon them and of their fellow passengers. Their names should be heralded far and wide. They are traitors to their race.

In conclusion, permit me again to thank you for this heartening reception and to assure you that, with your support and that of our millions on non-Jewish friends, we will drive the last nail in the coffin of bigotry and fanaticism that has dared to raise its ugly head to slander, belie and disgrace twentieth century civilization.

KEEP THE LIBERTY BELL RINGING!

Please remember: Our Fight is Your fight! Donate whatever you can spare on a regular—monthly or quarterly—basis. Whether it is $2., $5., $20., or $100. or more, rest assured it is needed here and will be used in our common struggle. If you are a businessman, postage stamps in any denomination are a legitimate business expense—and we need and use many of these here every month—and will be gratefully accepted as donations .

Your donations will help us spread the Message of Liberty and White Survival throughout the land, by making available additional copies of our printed material to fellow Whites who do not yet know what is in store for them.

Order our pamphlets, booklets, and, most importantly, our reprints of revealing articles which are ideally suited for mass distribution at reasonable cost. Order extra copies of Liberty Bell for distribution to your circle of friends, neighbors, and relatives, urging them to subscribe to our unique publication. Our bulk prices are shown on the inside front cover of every issue of Liberty Bell.

Pass along your copy of Liberty Bell, and copies of reprints you obtained from us, to friends and acquaintances who may be on our "wave length," and urge them to contact us for more of the same.

Carry on the fight to free our White people from the shackles of alien domination, even if you can only join our ranks in spirit. You can provide for this by bequest. The following are suggested forms of bequests which you may include in your Last Will and Testament:

1. I bequeath to Mr. George P. Dietz, as Trustee for Liberty Bell Publications, P.O. Box 21, Reedy WV 25270 USA, the sum of $ . . . . . for general purposes.
